MedEvolve Chooses RCxRules' Predictive Rules Engine

MedEvolve improves their business performance by implementing RCxRules' predictive rules engine to automate processes and ensure clean and accurate data enters their financial system

Burlington, VT – December 1, 2015 – RCxRules, the provider of business process automation technology for the healthcare revenue cycle, announced a new client's success today: MedEvolve, a provider of practice management and revenue cycle management software and services.

RCxRules is providing MedEvolve with their predictive, revenue cycle rules engine to automate their business office processes. MedEvolve has combined RCxRules' robust library of industry-standard rules with a set of tailored, customer-specific rules based on their vast experience in providing revenue cycle management services. By automatically reviewing all charges against this powerful and comprehensive rule set, MedEvolve has seen faster payments and fewer denials.

"At MedEvolve, we are focused on increasing the speed of our clients' business," said Mike Schiller, president and CEO, MedEvolve. "For our revenue cycle management service, that translates to ensuring our customers get paid faster and that their reporting is timely and impactful. We fully utilized the automation capabilities of RCxRules to streamline our processes and ensure that clean, accurate data is delivered to our financial and analytics systems. Within four months of going live, we've seen the impact flow directly to our bottom line."

"We pride ourselves on our predictive rules engine that automatically fixes issues and delivers the cleanest charge data possible. We want to help all our customers run their revenue cycle operations as well as they possibly can," said Stephen Gorman, Chief Executive Officer of RCxRules. "Our solution was a good fit for MedEvolve and we're delighted to be working with them and in some way contribute to the successful partnership they have with their clients."

About MedEvolve, Inc.

MedEvolve, Inc. has served the practice management, EHR and revenue cycle management needs of its clients for over 20 years, now serving nearly 600 practices and more than 3,500 healthcare practices. MedEvolve's practice management and EHR solutions are implemented as an on premise solution, or a subscription (SaaS) service.
