Medical Practice Partners Chooses RCxRules’ Predictive Rules Engine to Reduce Their Overall Denials

Burlington, VT – October 20, 2015 – RCxRules, the provider of business process automation technology for the healthcare revenue cycle, announced a new client’s success today: Medical Practice Partners, a Connecticut-based provider of revenue cycle management services and electronic health record support for medical practices in New England.

RCxRules is providing Medical Practice Partners with their predictive rules engine platform in addition to an ICD-10 translation tool.

“Through the use of RCxRules we have reduced our preventable denials by approximately 50%. That kind of performance improvement is the result of the clean and accurate data provided by the RCxRules engine,” said Rust Muirhead, VP of Operations & Strategic Planning for Medical Practice Partners.

“The team at Medical Practice Partners has a keen focus on process improvement,” said Tim McNamara, Senior Vice President of sales for RCxRules. “We are proud they selected RCxRules as part of their process automation vision.”

About Medical Practice Partners

Medical Practice Partners is a leading provider of Revenue Cycle Management (RCM) services and Electronic Health Records (EHR) support for medical practices in New England. Our expert Revenue Cycle Management Team consistently helps clients exceed MGMA benchmarks and maximize cash flow. Our Electronic Health Records Team is led by a clinician with industry recognized proficiency in workflow optimization and software customization, allowing us to maximize the investment our clients have made in technology. Tapping into our expertise in both the clinical environment and medical billing complexities, we’ve helped a number of clients offset the entire cost of their EHR implementation by taking advantage of the many financial incentive programs available to them.
